Section 401

E. Veterinary Care

1. Inoculations Satisfactory

2. Sick/Injured Care Critical

One orange/white longhaired kitten in isolation room cage observed with significant signs of illness-hunched and depressed in cage with squinted, watery and slightly crusted eyes and nose, watery diarrhea, swollen anal area coated with wet fecal material-no record of any veterinary exam and/or any care/treatment being provided. Pet dealer was advised to monitor it closely and to obtain veterinary care for it as soon as possible.

Multiple other kittens observed to have diarrhea and/or exhibiting signs of ongoing diarrhea-wet, irritated anal areas, stool clinging to hair-no record of any veterinary exam and/or any care/treatment being provided. Pet dealer advised to seek veterinary care for them.

Four black kittens in isolation room enclosure observed with multiple hairless areas on ears and paws/legs consistent with ringworm-no record of any veterinary exam and/or any care/treatment. Pet dealer advised to seek veterinary care for them as soon as possible. Pet dealer and staff advised to take precautions in handling them and to closely monitor themselves and all other animals for any signs of ringworm.

Multiple kittens in multiple cages observed with varying degrees of watery and slightly crusted eyes and/or noses-no record of veterinary exam and/or care being provided except for eye ointment being used on one orange, longhaired kitten. Pet dealer advised to seek veterinary care and/or advice for their care and/or treatment.

3. Observation Satisfactory

4. Health Exams (dogs) Satisfactory

5. Isolation General

Assigned area does not prevent or reduce the chance of spread of illness-designated isolation room being used to house new arrivals and other apparently healthy animals as well as animals showing signs of illness.

Animals in isolation room housed in open wire cages abutted against one another, allowing direct physical contact between them.

Animals in isolation room showing signs of different types of illnesses and/or no signs of illness housed comingled together in cages.
